Nobody seems to be taking me up on my request to include "Readers' Letters" in the BBQ so I am trying to introduce a new feature in the next issue. Any player willing to send some of their private details could find themselves featured. I do not mind if they are slightly "tongue-in-cheek" and could include a few of their favourite (and least-favourite) things. What about a short list of the things they are good at (and bad at). Or, it could include nicknames (from school, perhaps) or even extracts from their school reports. Please limit these to about half a page or 300 words. If this catches on, I could include two features each time, and ANY player may apply.

EDITORIAL

As intimated in the last B.B.Q., it has been agreed that the AEBBA will increase its subsidy to this publication. In order to raise about £100, the Assoc will donate £60 and the subs will increase by 50p to £8 per year as from the AGM. The editor will retain sole rights to its content until (and unless) someone else takes it over. It should be pointed out that this is the first increase since 1996, and I hope you will agree is still great value.

The renewal slip for BBQ's 49-52 is attached for those who had not already taken up the offer of renewing early at 2002 prices.

As it is hoped previous controversies are now out of the way, I have decided not to publish a very nice letter of support which has been received, but I thank the sender wholeheartedly. However, if further unsubstantiated and unexplained allegations are made, I could not and will not hesitate to refute them vigorously.

Otherwise, the BBQ will now become "CONTROVERSY FREE, WELL NEARLY".

On a personal note, as a possible redundancy now threatens me, we will have to see what effect this has on me being able to continue to attend all the events. All organisers may therefore have to be prepared to furnish me with DETAILS within 2 or 3 weeks of their event.

I am delighted to include in this edition a letter from Les and Ann Green, wishing you all, as I do (if you receive this in time, or even if you don't) a Merry Xmas etc etc.

A big thank you to Richard Hockey for providing most of the paper used to produce this edition of the BBQ.

SIR TIFFY CUT'S PERFORMANCE AWARD

DAWN FLATTERY: for beating a past World Champion Bernie McCluskey in Jersey.

JAMES JEANNE: (son of Bob) for reaching the Plate Final in Jersey at the first attempt after having played in the Junior event until last year, and then lost out to "Auntie Sue" Mariner in a good final.

JOYCE MANNELL: for beating everyone 5-0 in her group and reaching the final of the Ladies All-England Individuals.

But this quarter's award goes to.....

PAUL WING: for beating the artist formally known as Katie, AND John Burrows on the way to the Grand Prix Final, before just missing out on winning back the prize money he had himself sponsored. Everyone wants to sponsor an event now????

DEADLINE DATE FOR NEXT B.B.Q.: MAR 9th

THE "LATE ARRIVAL BLACKLIST" currently comprises the following players who will be disqualified at any All-England event where they arrive after the declared cut-off time again. They have already received ONE warning:

BILL TRINDER, SAM GODDARD, DEREK PAYNE, GARY JOHNSON, ANDY CHAMBERS, RAY HUSSEY, TONY MARTIN, KIM BEECHING, CLARE SHAW, DEA GRAY.

Don't get your name added to the blacklist. Get there on time!

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

SUNDAY DEC 8th 2002 at the HARE AND HOUNDS, SONNING COMMON, BERKS

GRAND PRIX CHANGES

A proposal from the Sussex Committee (accepted 10-3) that the rule be abolished which requires players to have played in a minimum number of Grand Prix events in order to qualify for the Finals.

It was suggested by Kevin Tunstall and accepted that the Grand Prix finals be changed to a group format, still seeded and sorted out in this way: Group A: 1, 16, 8, 9. Group B: 4, 13, 5, 12. Group C: 2, 15, 7, 10. Group D: 3, 14, 6, 11. Group winners then qualifying for the semi-finals.

OVER 50's and OVER 60's

In view of the above, these senior events would have to start earlier, probably at 10.0 or 10.30, and the Grand Prix players would have to be present about 12.0 or 12.30.

To facilitate calculation of the new format, entries for both senior events would have to be made IN ADVANCE rather than accepting entries on the day. That way, entries could be taken up to the previous week (Nov 23) and the draw be made AT the Mixed Pairs enabling everyone to know exactly what time they would be playing.

But last year's decision that those entering the Over-60's also had to enter the Over-50's was rescinded, thus allowing players to enter only the senior event if they so wish. Of the 38 Over-50 entries in 2002, an amazing 19 had also been Over-60, and there seemed no advantage in enforcing them to play in an event they did not wish to.

ROUND-ROBIN RULES

On a proposal from Kevin Tunstall and Mark James, the emphasis was unanimously changed from winning LEGS to winning MATCHES, by awarding 1.0 pts for an overall match win, PLUS 0.2 for each leg and 0.1 for aggregate (or if decimal points are not required, everything could be multiplied by 10).

(The proposal may just as well say 11 pts for the win plus 2 pts for each leg, but this change is unlikely to affect the ranking points awarded.)

KEN HUSSEY'S ANNUAL REPORT

Ken reported that the company now rented less than 250 tables, and announced an immediate reduction in the sponsorship of the game. There should be no new or resurrected events as the tables would not be made available. They would continue supporting the existing Opens, league finals once-a-year and All-England events but no cash sponsorship would be forthcoming.

OFFICERS & SELECTION COMMITTEE REMAIN UNCHANGED

President: E Hill, Chairman: K Lewendon, Secretary: D Barnes, Treasurer: K MacDonald, Tournament Director: P Farrelly.

ENGLAND TEAMS 2003

LADIES: Pauline Withey (Oxon, capt), Dawn Flattery (Bucks), Jan Taylor (Kent), Sue Mariner, Bella Stoner and Kim Beeching (all Sussex). Reserve: Diana Welburn (Kent).

WOLFIE STORCH MEMORIAL EVENT

Wallingford are staging a "Wolfie Storch Memorial Pairs" event at the Fairmile Social Club near Cholsey. Tables booked for their league finals would be re-used.

Entries of about 96 INDIVIDUALS were being requested, the highest ranked 50% of these would be drawn to partner the lower ranked players, giving Wolfie's sons a chance of playing "with the big boys". The lower-ranked player would also take the break in each leg. The fee would be £5 each person, proceeds going to a charity of Sandra's choosing.

SPONSORSHIP

Paul Wing stated that, as he vehemently disagreed with the proposal which would now allow players into the Grand Prix finals without entering many events, he had decided to withdraw sponsorship of the event in 2003, but will now sponsor the 2004 International

To All the "ball bangers" who remember us.

Well, yes, we finally made it. Living in Greece, that is!

What's it like so far? Different!

After working on the motorways of the south east of England (and up into the midlands) for nearly 6 years, the pace and stress of life couldn't be much more different! After living in the south east of England and having to pay a small fortune to live, before even starting to buy such luxuries as food, it couldn't be much more different! After being in a Country where, if you say you are going to be somewhere at a certain time and are even 15 minutes late, you are left in no uncertain terms knowing that you have sinned (or are even not allowed to play a game of Bar Billiards that you may have travelled miles for). Here is much different! As long as you arrive on the right DAY you are considered to be on time!

And the weather is different too! Especially this year when Europe, including Greece, had the worst summer on record - and Britain had a heat wave! Still, we've got temperatures in the lower 70's at the moment (November), so who cares about the summer now?

How's life here?

Average day consists of getting up - in the morning is considered to be a bonus, but anytime during the day will do. Unless I have work to go to.

Work? Yes, nothing too serious or 9 to 5 type work. The only work that I do now is as the local, English, factotum. No, that isn't some strange ritual practised by the Red Indian that doesn't pull at the reservation disco on Friday night!! That means "jack of all trades". So far I have been car & motorbike mechanic, plumber, telecom. engineer (my actual career), washing machine engineer, electrician, carpenter, computer engineer. As long as it pays, I'll do almost anything. I'm also still installing our central heating system, which we may need in the coming months.

And what about Annie?

Annie is usually to be found in the garden or baking cookies, cakes, anything that for years she could just go into the local shop and buy! That's the only downside, things that you can buy easily in England and love, they just ain't heard of over here!! She's become very good at Chinese cooking as well, as the nearest takeaway is about 3 hours by hydrofoil.

We also try to get to the Post Office 2 or 3 times a week for Annie's 'dose of excitement' if anyone has written to us. Post doesn't get delivered over here, you have to collect it yourself - I'm sure it will catch on elsewhere eventually! And, of course, there's always the latest edition of "What K.T. did" and "What K.T. did next" to look forward to (come on Keith, get your finger out! No.2 is o.k., but I expected better). Oh, also, well done Terry for winning the World Championship, it's about time you managed to win that extra match out there.

Well, that's about it for now. If anyone wants to write to us the address is at the top and we'd be glad to here from you. And to all members of the "Aged Enthusiastic Ball Bangers Association", Merry Xmas & Keep on Potting!!

LAST YEAR: JIM MILLWARD (SUSSEX) beat KEVIN TUNSTALL (OXON)

NEWS, VIEWS, ANECDOTES and COMMENTS OVERHEARD in JERSEY

CHRIS SAVILLE is always good for a great telephone story. You may remember that he once went to Jersey with these words from his wife Gill echoing around his brain: "Just enjoy yourself and relax, BUT DON'T GET TOO DRUNK!" Chris had a "few" on the first night so decided NOT to ring as she would "hit the roof" (as SHE HASN'T GOT A VERY STEADY AIM, allegedly). He rang her early the next morning, waffling through an apology by making up a story that he could not get any of the phones working the night before. Chris tried to explain, "There was a fault with all the telephone lines, I tried everything." There were 5 seconds or so of silence before Gill replied: "What do you mean? You rang me about 12.30, waking me up, and you were TOTALLY sozzled!" (or words to that effect). That taught him a lesson, or should have done.

This year's classic is as follows: Chris was moaning that he had forgotten to pack his alarm clock. One of his "Saville's travellers" reminded him that he could set his mobile phone as an alarm clock. Although Chris is a bit of a whizz with computers, he did not know how to use the alarm and so one of his mates offered to do it for him. "7.30 a.m." was set as required and, when it went off the next morning, Chris jumped up for a shower, before realising it was still dark. The mate had correctly set the alarm, without realising Chris had never ever set the correct "REAL time" on his mobile. It was of course only about 5.0 a.m.

CHRIS SAVILLE also disclosed (rather naughtily) that a lady member of his party, who shall remain nameless, had been seen naked in a man's bedroom. As an investigative reporter, this BBQ editor simply had to get to the bottom of this story, if you pardon the expression, and so confronted the lady involved, to get her side of the story. She admitted that she was, indeed, naked in a man's bedroom but said that she "had not been SEEN by anyone other than myself in the mirror." To explain, she said that she wanted a bath and her own room only had a shower.....and the man involved was NOT THERE at the time, honestly. As retribution, she threatened to slip a note through Chris' door to say: "CHRIS SAVILLE, you ARE the Weakest Link, Goodbye! Lots of love from Keith Sheard." A girl after my own heart!!

DI WELBURN. When asked by another of Saville's travellers whether a lady had ever won the event, Di said, "No, so if Chris wins it this year, it will be a first!"

NIGEL BISSON announced that next year's tournament will be two weeks earlier than usual in 2003, i.e. Oct 25-26, in order to be able to stage it at the De Normandie before it closes at the end of October. At least it means that Gill may be able to come with Chris to keep him on the straight and narrow, as it will be half-term and Gill is a teacher. The event is always good, but we have never shut down an entire hotel before.

NICK BARNETT has promised to grow his hair for a whole year and then allow Dave Constable to shave his head for charity at the tournament next year. He would deserve an enormous amount of support from us all if he allows Dave anyway near any part of his body. C

Certainly not with a razor in his hand.

Nigel Bisson agreed it would be dodgy with the words: "Look what happened to me!"

CONNEX Isn't it slightly worrying to see CONNEX running the Jersey buses now, after they had done to the UK railway system what John Major did to Edwina.

JACKIE PECKHAM told me that, as their flight came in to land at Jersey, the visibility was only 500 metres, and they usually required 550 to land properly.

GERRY PECKHAM, Jackie's better half and a.k.a "Winkle", was sitting round the hotel lounge with a group of mates including Dave Howarth, his wife and baby. When the BBQ editor walked in, Winkle said, "You've just missed Jackie feeding the baby." My mind conjured up all sorts of things!

ARTHUR BEDFORD used to love the event, but it has been a few years since he was well enough to travel. Obviously, 'cause he sent a message through the BBQ editor to "wish everyone the best of luck at the Inn-on-the-Park.

ANON. "We went for a practice." "Where?" "The something Inn"
"The Pack-It-In?"

MARK TURNER, whilst scoring a match for mate Joe O'Farrell, commented on a "slightly lucky" shot by saying it was "Unconventional but effective!"

Incidentally, even after nearly 18 months of trying, there is still no news of any future offspring, so we are now debating whether he needs any lessons from Victoria & David. But, thankfully, Mark has promised NOT to continue their idea of naming a baby after where it was conceived, as "Cockermouth Turner" does not sound quite right.

TONY MARTIN was busy commenting on the exquisite coffee and walnut gâteau that was on offer in the hotel one evening, when suddenly coffee was spilt on his very own walnuts courtesy of the slightly clumsy waitress. Worse still when, despite Tony offering her his napkin, she ignored his pleas for a quick dabbing down.

OSAMA-BIN-LADEN was suspected of an invasion of the hotel in the early hours of one morning when three "Arabs" were seen cavorting through the corridors. The same people were suspected of being involved in earlier atrocities including Kevin Tunstall's mattress being moved into his bath, and another bed going AWOL altogether.

BRITISH AIRWAYS have allowed me a £60 reduction on my next flight (in February). I had complained to them, not just because I had waited at Southampton from 9.10 a.m. and only took off at 4.30 p.m. after many delays, but then found that all my clothes had been soaked. The suitcase must have been left out in the rain at the airport for many hours. It is always worth complaining!

RETRIBUTION to a certain extent when I arrived at Jersey airport for the return trip. I was asked, as usual, to hand my cue in at the special desk at the far end of the airport. I was told to lift the phone and ask for assistance. I said, "Hello, there is a cue here for you!" She came down quickly, expecting a QUEUE.

THE ROOM'S "DO NOT DISTURB" SIGN was the reason why nobody saw Mark Brewster in Jersey this year. He found it on the inside of the door when he first checked in, so he stayed there all weekend.

STEVE MARINER confirmed that I was correct when I included the following line in my editorial for BBQ 46: "Isn't it weird that an anagram of Jim Millward's home town is NOB GIRTH". The question raised now is "How does he know?"

STEVE MARINER also provided one last memorable quotation from the weekend. "Oh, Nikki, you've left that terrible floater in there. Oh dear, Nikki"

HAVE CUE WILL TRAVEL used to be Paul Sainsbury's nickname, but now Farrelly is gunning for the title. He calculated that he did 550 bar billiard miles within SIX days of getting back from Jersey. This comprised driving back from Southampton airport on Monday, two matches in the Oxford area on Tuesday and Thursday, and then driving to Reading and back on Sunday for the Team Championships.

NICK BARNETT said: "Call me old-fashioned but aren't you supposed to be able to get the ONE-UP shot" after losing to Alan Woodworth on table 11. Sheard agreed.

IT'S TERRY'S TITLE

After being beaten in two previous British Isles Open Championship finals (in 1990 and 1999), Terry has finally "Raced" (sorry, I felt compelled to do ited!) to the ultimate title, the World Championship, in front of a packed De Normandie Hotel crowd.

It has to be said that his home County of Sussex made up the biggest contingent, still on a high after seeing their adopted Queen of the Green Baize, Sue Mariner, capture the Plate Competition final against the very youthful James Jeanne. (More of that later!)

The unassuming Terry Race rarely seems to let his hair down during the weekend, (in fact, like many of us, he has far less to let down these days), but he knows what he is in Jersey for, and, although he is never seen on the circuit from one year to the next, he always produces some fine performances when it really matters..... in Jersey!

Let's hope he can enjoy his prize: a week for two at a 3-star hotel in Tenerife, Majorca or the Costa del Sol, courtesy of TRAVTEL & CHANNEL HOTELS.

Terry declined an invitation to the Grand Prix finals, and will not be making the trip back to Jersey in February when England are determined to end the run of Jersey successes. But he knows he can always look back to this weekend as, in the words of Winston Churchill, his "greatest hour".

More accurately, it was his finest SEVEN hours, because he hardly put a foot wrong once the tournament switched to its two-leg format at 3.30 on Sunday afternoon.

You could even go back to Saturday lunchtime when he started his quest against Gina Sherratt, also from Sussex and a former multi-prize winner herself. A 7,770 break against her and then another 7,920 break against Surrey's Keith Wilkinson saw him easily through to the second day.

His "poorest" scoring performance was in the third round against Jersey stalwart Fred Jeanne, but 5,190 was still creditable and ample.

Stepping up a gear, Terry made breaks of 10,990 and 11,080 to annihilate poor Graham Huby, and then used some of his vast experience to beat holder Jim Millward to reach the quarter-finals.

Obviously boosted by that, he was completely undaunted by Dennis Helleur playing out the first leg for an 11,440 break, replying with a wonderful 13,100 break with time to spare.

That had his supporters in raptures but the best was still to come. To the total dismay of all watching, especially your reporter who wrote Terry off completely when Trevor Gallienne (Guernsey's shining star) accumulated a 15,840 lead at the half-way stage.

Terry's chance had appeared over when he missed a ball between the 20 and 30 pockets and failed to take advantage of Trevor coming off with only 3,900. The Guernsey man raised the pace and stormed in with another 11,940. The clock was only 15 mins 20 secs, so Terry would surely have too much to do, considering his potting style of play.

As far as your reporter can remember, Terry did not take a "split" shot, but somehow closed to within touching distance as the bar dropped. He contrived to give himself a chance, was forced to play a "split" with two of the last three balls and then calmly potted the "200" to win by 30 and send the whole crowd into raptures this time.

The final was not a classic, but that was what made the game so exciting for those packing the room to get the best possible view.

Nigel Ryall, probably one of the hardest workers on the organising committee as Tables Manager, came through the other half of the draw.

Nigel made a total clearance of 14,200 against Steve Huntley in the first round, beat the dangerous Paul Wing in the second, Bill Houlton in the third, and then made breaks of 6,330 & 14,460 in the 4th before ousting another dangerman Chris Tupper in the last 16.

Nigel had a tough quarter-final against Mark James, even after building up a hefty first leg lead of over 7,000. The Sussex man opened the second leg with a 6,810 break to close the gap to just 280, but then failed to retrieve the break back at his next visit and Nigel stormed away again.

Nigel again took a handy first leg lead in his semi-finals against Mike Matthews, and then just held off a sterling fight back in the 2nd.

And so to the final itself:

Terry won the toss and Nigel opened with a solid 4,480, to which Terry replied with 2,980. After four further visits each, the scores had not moved on a great deal, but Nigel potted the 100 at the 2nd attempt and took a 5,330 - 3,430 interval lead.

Terry opened the 2nd leg with 4,610, taking up 7 minutes so obviously going a lot slower than in the semi-final, and why not?

Nigel seemed to be going well, but, at 1,250, had a ball kick back from the 50 hole on a "follow-through" shot and then he missed the next shot.

Nigel showed a slight smile of resignation as Terry got the break back after 9½ minutes. Three minutes and a break of 2,100 later, Terry led by 3,560 and Nigel knocked down a pin on what transpired to be his last visit of the tournament, before Terry again got the break back and made another 1,930, sinking the 100 to quite a tumultuous cheer.

And now, how did everyone else get on.....

Farrelly got on very well actually.....not in the tournament you understand, but he did quite well in his predictions, with 7 of the 16 "sheet-winners" being tipped to do so.

SHEET 1 (Winner NIGEL BISSON as tipped): Nigel had an easy passage.

SHEET 2 (Winner ERIC HILL as tipped): Dorset's best eased through despite the presence of Jenny Noel, Lorin Clough and Paul Sainsbury who lost to big Andy Farmer-Wright.

SHEET 3 (Winner HARRY BARBET as tipped): Harry had no problems from his opening break of 13,600, then a string of good scores (including one against former runner-up Bob King). Nick Barnett failed to make any impact, losing his second round match with Alan Woodworth on table 11 [see Nick's memorable quote on page 14]. Woodworth also beat James Jeanne (runner-up in the Plate) before giving Harry his closest tussle.

SHEET 4 (Winner TREVOR GALLIENNE, tip STEVE AHIER): This was a minefield with reigning All-England champion Nigel Senior, former winners Gallienne and Ahier, and good outside bets Barry Holt and Dennis Atkins all in contention. Two-time winner Steve Ahier (in 1990 & 1991) put out Senior but lost to Gallienne, who made breaks of 7,300 & 6,000.

SHEET 5 (Winner KEVIN TUNSTALL, tip STEVE MARINER): Katie's presence dominated, beating Sue Leach, Richard Hockey, tough compatriot Mariner and then Wallingford team-mate Mark Turner. Mark started with only 2,920 and Katie's 5,340 and then another 4,800 in the 2nd leg left Turner floundering. A 5,380 Turner rally was too late.

SHEET 6 (Winner DENNIS HELLEUR, tip GRAHAM BISSON): Helleur survived a very tough sheet, beating former winner Graham Bisson, but his expected clash with year 2000 winner Bernie McCluskey never materialised when the latter lost to Dawn Flattery. Ernie Jordan's MUCH better half, in easily the biggest shock of the early stages.

SHEET 7 (Winner JIM MILLWARD, as tipped): Holder Jim had a tough sheet but prevailed by beating Peter Noel (winner in 1984 & 1999) in round 2 and Geoff Jukes in round 4.

SHEET 8 (Winner TERRY RACE, as tipped): Fred Jeanne put out Terry's only other serious rival Mark Brewster.

SHEET 9 (Winner CHRIS TUPPER, tip "MODESTY FORBIDS"): Chris calmly edged through, despite only one score over 4,000. Farrelly came through a tougher than expected first round against Dick Cable but then narrowly lost to Bella Stoner who started well and then made a good break when Fazza broke down in the dying minutes. She was SO lucky!!!!

It is embarrassingly the fourth time in the last six years that he has been beaten by a female player in an early round. Records show that since reaching the semi-final in the last year at the Inn-on-the-Park (1995), and losing to Mick Lingham in the last 16 in 1996, he has lost to Sue Mariner (1997) Michelle Baden (1998) Janie Macoy (2000) and now Bella Stoner (2002), so if defeats by Dave Constable (1999) and Nigel Senior (2001) are included, you could say he has been beaten by a "lady" SIX times in six years!!!! SORRY YOU TWO!!!

SHEET 10 (Winner NIGEL RYALL, as tipped).

SHEET 11 (Winner MICK FAIRS, tip ERNIE JORDAN): Ernie fell at the first hurdle against Martin Atkins, who lost to Terry Molloy, who lost to Vince Watts, who lost to Mick Fairs. So you could say I got that one "Fair(s)ly" wrong!!! Mick was a surprise, lowering his ranking from 94 to 59 with this event.

SHEET 12 (Winner MARK JAMES, as tipped): Mark's charge up the rankings continued, despite a tough draw. He needed wins over a former winner Tim Ringsdore and England Ladies captain Pauline Withey to progress. Tim is making a comeback to the game after taking a few years off since his unexpected Championship win in 1983. "Auntie" Pauline had earlier ended Steven Sheard's first year in the main competition after he had won the Junior event five years on the trot.

SHEET 13 (Winner DAVE GALLICHAN, tip RAY STURGESS): Ray lost to Dave, after three 7,000+ scores, including two 6,000 breaks. Dave is the one person in the room that your reporter actually "looks up to". But only 'cause he is about 6 ft 6 in!!

SHEET 14 (Winner STEVE HAWKES, tip TONY WALSH): Hawkes came quietly through the sheet which saw Walshy succumb to Kent's Craig Carlson in round 2.

SHEET 15 (Winner MIKE MATTHEWS, tip KEITH SHEARD): Money was at stake here, my money(!), but Keith (the 1998 champion) went out on that infamous table 11 in round one when he simply could not get the one-up right. Opponent Chris Saville opened up with a hard-fought 3,390 and admitted to bad nerves. Keith put the first one-up attempt round the back of the 50 and then, given one last chance, hit it far too softly, to allow Saville to travel (remember Saville's travels?) back to the table to finish him off. And before you gloat too much at my financial loss, it was Katie who benefited. All donations to the address at the top of page 1 of this BBQ would be gratefully accepted. Chris then seemed to have a simple task of qualifying but lost out two rounds later to Richard Wooton (Sussex), who then lost to much under-rated Jerseyman, Mike Matthews.

SHEET 16 (Winner ROGER TAYLOR, tip SUE MARINER): Taylor won by beating Sue in the first round, and a former winner Terry Oakley in the second.

The LAST 16, the other QUARTER-FINALS, and the Jersey/England battle:

Trevor Gallienne beat Harry Barbet despite a break of 9,350 from the latter, and made breaks of 11,230 & 16,550 against Nigel Bisson, comfortable winner over Eric Hill.

Dennis Helleur beat Katie with a slow 9,460 opener and then holding on to the lead in the 2nd leg.

Proceedings were held up for a while when the organisers inexplicably ordered an immediate two-leg replay after Mark James and Mick Fairs had played out a DRAW, but Mark came through fairly easily second time around.

Mike Matthews beat Roger Taylor narrowly, but made a break of 12,380 in the quarter-final against Dave Gallichan, winner over Steve Hawkes in the last 16.

There is a subliminal extra edge to this championship each year, as shown statistically at the foot of page 19. UK visitors well outnumber locals at the outset, and it is always interesting to see IF OR WHEN Jersey players start to outnumber the visitors.

This year UK were still on top in the last 32, having 20 participants against Jersey's 10. But it evened out in the next round before there were only Mark James and Terry Race from England left in the last eight. [Mark is regarded as "English" for this purpose as he is in the England team, despite his very soft Ulster brogue.]

The Plate Competition simply gets more and more popular, and must be one of the reasons why we saw a bigger overall entry this year. The finalists must feel very good when they are called upon to provide the hors d'oeuvre for the main final on the table which has just been set up especially for the climax of the weekend.

It is not unusual either to see better bar billiards in the Plate final due to the pressure on the players in the main event.

It started in grand style this year. James Jeanne, in his first ever Senior event, lost the toss but kicked off with a very creditable 4,620 break, proudly watched by dad Bob and an excited "Uncle Fred".

Sue Mariner replied with 6,060 before James made another 1,110 to leave it very finely balanced at 6,320 - 5,780 in Sue's favour at half-way.

Sue lost her initial 450 when she left it near the 10 hole. James moved the ball but only made 90 as nerves began to show. Sue's 1,130 was countered by James' 1,930 and he was back in the lead...just. Three more visits each did not move the scores on very much and then James should have sealed it when he retrieved the break back with 4½ minutes to go but only made 790. Sue could have done the same but missed at 1,460. James missed a ball in front of the 10, Sue hit it but missed just after the bar dropped. James nervously potted a few but Sue was just out of reach and the 100 gave her victory by 600 overall.

Odd that Steve Mariner had donated the trophy for this event. Sue had told him to as she wanted "rid of it" before promptly winning it back.

The Junior event only produced five entrants this year, disappointing when you consider many of last year's players were now in the senior event leaving it very open to bring on a new winner.

Maria Rayson conducted the event, nevertheless, which saw Matthew Malorey crowned the first local to win the event after a five-year monopoly of Steven Sheard who graciously handed over the trophy, but could not be forced into making a speech.

At least the BBQ campaign to allow Steven into the big event was successful, after hearing that he had been told he would have to play in the Juniors one more year.

ALMA'LLRIGHT AS SAVILLE'S TRAVELLERS TAKE THE TITLE

It is, as far as the editor can recall, the first time in BBQ history that a headline has been allowed to take up TWO lines, but the Alma (Deal) deserve it!

One minute, the admin desk were being informed that the 5th leg of the final would not be required as Chequers were "walking it", the next minute they had lost 3-1 already, leaving Kevin without a game in the scheduled "timed-break" deciding leg.

The Alma were not the highest scoring team at the event, they were not even the highest scoring team in their group. In fact they were only No.4 of the eight teams in the scoring stakes, but they stormed away with the title in style.

Things were not looking good when the day started, with them only beating Barton Seagrave CC (the weakest team in the group, on paper, and in reality at the final outcome) by 3-2 and the signs did not improve when Tim Bournier was given the devil's number (666) for his meal ticket.

But things looked much better when they beat last year's runners-up, the Stadium from Hove, in their next match, [although they wished it to be pointed out that this was the WORTHING league team as opposed to the BRIGHTON team last year]. With captain Chris Saville beating Jim Millward (who was in BOTH teams) with a 7,750 break and Tim Bournier and John Mitchell winning against break advantage (v I Lelliott and N Senior respectively), the Alma were on a roll.

The group was so tight at that point, with the Stadium and the star-studded Caversham WMC only one point adrift. But Alma knew that if they beat Caversham in the last group game, the Sussex team would need to beat lowly Barton Seagrave 5-0.

Both games ended 3-2 as Ted Batchelor scored 7,120 against break advantage of out-of-sorts Keith Lewendon, John Mitchell made it 2-0 and the skipper made it 3-1.

So, although Bernie McCluskey made a 10,100 break in the 5th leg, the Kent side "hopped"-it into the final.

Jim Millward's 11,390 against Northants "good-guy" Ian Coleman looked like capturing the best break prize as his consolation at that point.

In GROUP B, the Derby Tavern from Portsmouth were sensational.

Sensationally unlucky that is!

Any team including Dennis Claydon, Alan Chaloner and Chris Newson have got to be unlucky if they get through three matches without winning a leg.

The Ship (Redhill) were the first to send them packing, followed by the Red Lion.

(Penn, near High Wycombe). At that point favourites Chequers (Dorchester) were struggling badly.

They had beaten the Bucks side 4-1 (with Katie taking out John Burrows, but "soon to be retiring" Dave Mahoney smashing 11,300 past Ray Hayter) but then lost 3-2 to the Ship.

The Chequers skipper called that a "Ship result", or something similar.

So, with one match left, the Chequers and the Red Lion were both two points behind the Ship.

Katie had to hope they could beat the Derby 4-1 and the Red Lion could beat the Ship 3-2, as Chequers' superior scoring could then see them through.

His team did the business 5-0, including a very good win for late call-up Stuart Florey who had had to sit out the earlier games after Katie "allegedly" slammed the car door on his fingers.

Qualification now depended upon the deciding leg of the other match which stood at 2-2 as all four legs had gone "with break advantage". If Dave Constable won, the Ship would "sail" into the final; if John Burrows won, the Red Lion would be "roaring" the Chequers on.

John had first break but took time to settle and things got a bit edgy for all concerned. Eventually, John made a wonderful 12,730 break although some interested observers were willing him to come off much earlier.

That also rightly earned John the best break award.

The toss for the final was won by Katie who opted for three first breaks.

The first four legs were, as usual, played concurrently.

Florey was playing well again, scoring 7,030 against Bournier, but Mark Turner had started badly and was going down to Mike Callanan. Never mind, as Chequers still had Tony Martin and Kevin Godfrey blazing away, both against break advantage.

When both lost breaks of around 6,000 within a few minutes, Chris Saville and Ted Batchelor respectively took advantage. Skipper Katie had his coat on and off, allegedly because he was cold, or could it have been that he thought he would not be required for the 5th leg.

Well, he wasn't!

All the big names were at the top of the averages. Burrows, Sainsbury, Tunstall, McCluskey, Millward and Turner all topped 8,000 on the day. But sandwiched in the middle was Dave Mahoney, a High Wycombe league stalwart, stretching back to the early days, despite his "youthful good looks".

He has now said that he has played his last game. The BBQ hopes that this is not true, but, if it is, let him be granted a very happy retirement.

FINAL

JOSIE HOGAN 2,970 & 3,160 beat JOYCE MANNELL 2,570 & 130

BEST BREAK OF THE DAY: PAULINE WITHEY 8,690

HOGAN'S RUN TO HER FIRST LADIES INDIVIDUAL TITLE

Josie Hogan is the new Ladies All-England Champion and will not care that the standard of the day's bar billiards was well below its usual standard.

She produced her best score in the opening game of the day, scoring 3,790 and 4,480 against Dawn Flattery, and then did enough in her remaining games against Di Welburn and Michelle Baden, the two favoured ladies in the group.

Meanwhile, Joyce Mannell was a revelation in the other group, winning all SIX legs against Pauline Withey, Jackie Coady (a new young face from Cambridge) and Jane Carless (NOT a new young face from Reading).

Pauline, far and away the favourite with most to win her first All-England title but may have had other things on her mind, finally settled in her last game, making breaks of 6,380 and 8,690 in the same leg against the luckless (but remarkably happy) Cambridge girl.

The BBQ wishes Pauline a speedy recovery from the long-awaited shoulder operation she was to undergo the day after these championships.

The final was rather low-key, with Josie winning the first leg by 400 and Joyce barely scoring in the second leg at all.

up twenty minutes later. Paul (call me Bert) Lovegrove was not able to take part but thanks should be levelled at him for staying on and scoring a lot of games.

Thanks Paul or Bert, whoever you are!

Keith marched on through difficult matches with John Miller (he surely is not 50!) and Alan Chaloner (he surely IS), before facing a very tough quarter-final with Terry Cook. This game was billed by the admin desk as "the match which would probably decide the champion" with all due respect to the other six contenders at that stage.

Keith prevailed despite a 7,580 break by the Witney jeweller. Keith was at it himself in the semi-final tussle with Derek Payne, making a splendid 14,230 break.

The final, against Chris Saville, was a very close affair. Chris had started with a solid 7,190 break before coming off very annoyed at having a ball whip out the 50 on the one-up shot. He made another 330 on his next visit before Keith got his head down (well down as far as he could!!!) for a cracking 6,220 break.

1,400 down at half-way, Keith opened the 2nd leg with 5,310 to take a handy lead for the first time. But on Chris' second visit, he made a 3,240 break to get to within 570 of Keith's overall score. Keith failed to make certain of victory, scoring only 230, to leave Chris better than half a chance, requiring 800 in the last two minutes.

The Kent master was distraught when he only scored 190, leaving Keith to clear up. He had made 670 at the bar, and finished off the balls to win by just 1,580.

The highest break was NOT awarded as the Secretary believed that "Over 50's don't like big breaks". Ask Terry Cook, who made a wonderful 14,950 in the third round against Tony Martin.

The oldest competitor was Charlie Gildersleve at 75, the youngest Jane Carless who only qualified by four months with a date of birth of 30.8.51.

Next year Pauline Withey and Pete Farrelly COULD be lining up, guess who is the younger.

Query of the day: why did Sam Goddard own up to his real name MICHAEL?

SPOTTY IS THE FIRST EVER VERY, VERY SENIOR CHAMPION

This new event was instigated to allow the "really old" players to be able to play in an event without the young whipper-snappers getting all those nasty big breaks.

But nobody told Pete Lee!!!

He produced one of the best displays of his illustrious career, a career that includes success in the British Open Pairs whilst partnering one Kevin Tunstall, admittedly many, many years ago.

A string of big scores looked as if he was turning the clock back to the good old days, and included a fabulous break of 15,570 in the semi-final with Brian Dawkins and a 13,930 opener in the final against Charlie Cooper.

Charlie opened the 2nd leg of the final with the words "I wouldn't have been able to chase 14,000 even when I was a good player".

Bill Trinder was the admin desk's tip for the title as he won the Over-50's three times many, many years ago.

None were consecutive and ALL BEFORE HE WAS 52, allegedly.

BERNIE'S THE BEST; WINGY ALMOST WINS HIS OWN MONEY

When Bernie McCluskey plays well, very few come close to beating him, even now he is nearing the time when he will have to consider entering the Over 50's.

He is again the Master after having the audacity to beat the sponsor in the final of this year's Grand Prix Masters event.

And Paul Wing was the star of the day, offering to put up some of the prize money and then sneakily trying to win it back.

But the sad part of the day was the fact that SIX of the original seeded 16 players did not (or could not) attend. Nigel Ryal was unable to make it over from Jersey. Mark James, Pauline Withey, Sue Mariner and Terry Race all declined for different reasons, and then on top of all that, Mark Turner arrived a few minutes after the declared deadline of 3.00 and Gary Johnson was given his place.

It all helped to devalue the competition slightly, with match averages well down on the early years of the event. But changes to the format are in place for next year, as you will see from the AGM notes on page 4.

None of this mattered to Freddie Mercury, oh sorry, Bernie McCluskey.

He barely made a noticeable mistake all day:

- (1) Coming back from over 8,000 down in the first round to beat Ernie Jordan with a 14,710 break.
- (2) Setting a wonderful 17,690 target for poor Dennis Atkins in the second round.
- (3) Successfully chasing Keith Sheard's 16,880 in the semi-finals, by making his best break of the day, 19,100.
- (4) Setting another 17,320 target for Paul in the final.

Paul Wing was visibly devastated to slip up at 2,840 in reply. Bernie was heard to expel an enormous sigh when he got the break back immediately, and it was all over well before Bernie came off with another 7,990 to his name with five minutes left.

But it was Paul who was the star. Nobody was too surprised when he ousted Hampshire team-mate Chris Newson in the first round with a 12,450 break, but very few expected him to get the better of Katie in the second round.

The undisputed No.1 was in good form when he made an 18,700 break to beat Tony Walsh's 17,860, but admitted to having to struggle to get to grips with the table in the match against Paul.

John Burrows was also back to his best when he made a hard-fought 15,290 break to beat Paul Sainsbury in the first round, and then another 10,980 break to oust Barry Holt in the 2nd round, but he had no answer to Wingy's 17,770 in the semi-final.

John can console himself if he sees himself up to No.10 provisionally for 2003.

And finally, how lucky can Barry Holt get, being drawn against the duffer who missed his second one-up on such an easy table, and then only got back to the table about half an hour later. Burrows was not as kind!

Hampshire par Tony Webster and Chris Newson.....enjoyed the day immensely.

QUALIFYING CONDITIONS:

For those players level on points, the following decided positions:

- (1) number of events qualified for GP points, so three 1 pts is better than one 3.
- (2) total number of matches won in GP events.
- (3) number of GP events played in during the year.
- (4) toss (or draw of lots) for the choice of position in the draw, but not if this would decide whether a player finishes in 16th or 17th positions etc, in which case a play-off will be required.

Note that if any ENGLISH-based player does not arrive for the event (or declines invitation) a reserve will be allowed to take that position in the draw.

Dress Code will apply: waistcoat, bow-tie, black trousers, black shoes.

WALLINGFORD "A" WON 6-4

Holders Wallingford soon took charge by taking the first three games in Rushden. Simon Coleman stopped the rot with a winning opening break but Mark Turner did a great job by replying with a 7,000 break. Pete Welch should have secured a 4-1 away win but a 6,000 opener was not quite enough.

A near 27,000 lead always looked decisive with the home leg to come, and even more so when Kevin Tunstall won with 15,590. Northants soldiered on with two wins to level matters at 4-4, but they were still nearly 21,000 down.

Tony Martin's 11,020 secured an unassailable lead at 5-4 unless someone could score 30,000 in the last leg. After seeing his opponent slip up at 1,120, Mark Turner made 15,070 to make it 6-4 overall. HIGHEST BREAK: KEVIN TUNSTALL 16,080.

READING: Charlie Wheeler is getting more and more bar billiards coverage on Radio Reading 107 with a look back over the first part of their league season being broadcast on Dec 21st. He says that from Feb, they are intending to review the previous month's news from both Mon and Thurs leagues. Good news, Charlie. He has also provided a cartoon from a 1963 edition of the Berkshire Chronicle, depicting some bar billiards players of the era. This will be included in a future edition of the BBQ, when space is available.
